Special tool or ruler:	Floriani Stitch N Wash Fusible; https://rnk-floriani.com/product/floriani-stitch-n-wash-fusible/
Story about this quilt:	I just finished a class using Floriani Stitch N Wash Fusible taught in Seattle by Vicki Conley. It was called Turned Edge Machine Piecing. It was similar to using freezer paper and starch to appliqué except that we used the much firmer product, Floriani. Quite fun and easy to use and washes out to make a soft finished project. I used one of Vicki's Patterns called Slot Canyon; https://www.vicki-conley.com/ .

Project Name:	President's challenge 2025
Size of Project:	20" X 20"
Story about this quilt:	This little Quilt is my entry in the Lake County Quilters Guild president's challenge for 2025. We had to choose a paper bag with three randomly selected crayons. Then find fabric to match the crayons and create a quilt using the fabrics.

Online/Blog Inspiration	Carolyn Friedlander's RAY quilt
Size of Project:	68" X 73"
Story about this quilt:	This is for my granddaughter and her husband. It was a challenge for me because their color preference is quite different from mine. They prefer neutrals and grayed tones of color. In spite of this difference, I was able to find most of the fabric I used in my stash. The print in the center was the inspiration for my fabric pull.

Project Name: Willamette Valley Quilters' 2025 Raffle Quilt—"Stars in Blue"
Size of Project: 91" X 101"

Story about this quilt: I was the lucky winner of the Willamette Valley Quilt show Raffle Quilt. They held their show "Quilts in Bloom" on June 20th and 21st, 2025. at the Yamhill County Fairgrounds.

Who Quilted this? The nice lady who brought it to me, said that the members made the stars with some size parameters, then another group figured out the design, and another member quilted it.
