Project Name: Pretty Posies
Size of Project: 68 X 81 inches
Story about this quilt: I saw this quilt in a magazine a couple of years ago and liked the simple design and various flowers. Recently it went on sale at Connecting Threads and purchased it. Fun to piece—there are four flower designs. Fun summer quilt!

Fabric Designer or Line Made with scraps from original quilt thus a 'daughter quilt'.
Project Name: Hospice Quilt for Hopewell House
Size of Project: 42 X 57 inches
Story about this quilt: I had lots of scraps from the original quilt thus. Making the flowers was fun so decided to use the scraps for a Hospice quilt.
Who Quilted this? I quilted it with stitch in the ditch and free motion.

Online/Blog Inspiration The multi colors of the backing inspired the colors of the quilt.
Project Name: Lennon's Quilt
Size of Project: 56 X 68 inches
Story about this quilt: I saw the backing fabric and was inspired by its color and design. I found a Connecting Threads kit (on sale!) and thought it would work with the backing fabric. My grandson has a new bed so offered it to him for his blue car bed frame.

Size of Project:	55" X 64"
Special tool or ruler:	Scrappy binding, Embroidery Machine
Story about this quilt:	Started this during the Pandemic. I wanted to make a quilt with a variety of block sizes. On some of the blocks, I embroidered words from a list a friend provided daily during the pandemic. A friend gave me the two charm squares of TP fabric and RBG fabric.

Project Name:	Twinkle Treat for Halloween

Size of Project: 30" X 38"
Special tool or ruler: Little O-rings to hold lights in place
Story about this quilt: This quilt came as a kit with the fabric and lights. Double-sided fusible web is used for the applique. The mini "rice" lights are held in place with tiny rubber O-rings. The kit comes with a nice layout and good instructions, (and excellent customer service.) They will be at the Puyallup Expo.

Story about this quilt: My new friend who lives down the road from me has a Quilt Room to die for. She called me down the other day and said that she had a project she wanted to give to me, project 63. She said she would not live long enough to do all her projects. So, I took it on and I made it. I love how it turned out.

Book or Pattern Inspiration: The hand embroidered red work squares
Project Name: Happy 85th Birthday to my Mom
Size of Project: 48 X 60 inches
Story about this quilt: This is one of my early quilts. I hand embroidered the muslin squares and then designed the quilt around the finished squares. I loved the backing fabric and was able to make it work by adding the same border fabric as on the front. This quilt came back to me after my Mom's passing 10 years ago. There are a few tea stains and Sharpie lines on it so I'm pretty sure it was used.

Story about this quilt: I made this quilt with over 2,500 pieces for my son and his wife. It is the largest quilt I've ever made and may be the largest one I'll ever make! The Bloc-Loc rulers were extremely helpful in keeping the blocks even in size which made putting everything together so much easier. I loved finding the extra-wide quilt backing, thanks to my friend, Pat.
